Make sure to include a clear thesis statement.

Visit the Iris and B. Gerald Cantor Center for the Visual Arts, Stanford University, Palo Alto, outside of regular class meeting time. (www.stanford.edu/dept/ccva/, 650-723-4177, free admission, open Wed.-Monday. 11-5, Thur. 11-8, closed Tuesday.). Take a photograph of yourself at the museum. Staple your photo to your paper as proof of your visit.

Explore the museum's permanent collections found in the African, Oceanic and Native American arts (Arts of the Americas) galleries and observe how the art is exhibited. Choose two or three examples of art to describe and compare.

Write a 4-6 page (typed, double-spaced) essay. Introduce the museum and the exhibition. Describe your examples of art in as much detail as possible using stylistic analysis. See the class handout on stylistic analysis for help. Are there any visual qualities of the art that suggests its function?

After visiting the museum and choosing your objects, find 4 resources (books, articles, videos, internet sources - NOT Wikipedia) to help you provide a brief context for your art examples. What is the cultural context of each object? You can focus upon one or more issues related to the social, cultural, historical, political, or ceremonial contexts – there are many ways of approaching this section. You might choose one of the themes we addressed in class this quarter (for example, gender issues and indigenous arts). You may also refer to information provided by the museum labels. Make sure you discuss the historical or cultural context of the works. (TURN OVER)
