Response questions for Frankena, "Morality and Moral Philosophy"

Adopted from S. Cahn, ed. Exploring Ethics: An Introductory Anthology. Oxford University Press, 2011.

1. Can we answer moral questions by appealing to what people generally think?
2. What is a typical pattern of reasoning in moral matters?
3. What are the differences between descriptive morality, normative ethics, and meta-ethics?
4. How does moral reasoning differ from mathematical reasoning?