This i-pad initiative will allow the CTE Perkins vocational program in Graphic Design which serves 200 students per quarter to better meet the needs of underserved students by further developed student skills utilizing recent technology as stated in the student learning outcomes of development of analysis and interpretation of the elements and principles of graphic design as applied to the practice of current visual communication. Learning new technology skills will provide much needed access to all our students in graphics, are current in, and interact with contemporary communication tools. To continue the upward momentum of success rates where all student success rates (84%) and assist in closing the gap with targeted student success rates (75%)
This technology will improve the already strong numbers of graphic design students in AA completion, transfer rates, certificate completion and job readiness.
