↓ Common Services:	Designation Initial ↓ M G E CD R or D
Counseling		Explain: As the Assessment Center does placement testing and prerequisite clearances, students use the Center as a source for information about courses and programs. By restructuring the testing process to an appointment based system, front desk staff have more time to answer students' questions. Consequently, the advising and orientation work is increasing.

Orientation	M	Explain: As the Assessment Center does placement testing and prerequisite clearances, students use the Center as a source for information about courses and programs. By restructuring the testing process to an appointment based system, front desk staff have more time to answer students' questions. Consequently, the advising and orientation work is increasing.
Outreach	M	Explain: As Outreach has expanded their role in high school testing, the Assessment Center's role has changed. We provide training for Outreach staff on how to do placement testing and we provide logistical support, but Outreach takes care of the on-site testing.
Registration	M	Explain:As the Assessment Center does placement testing and prerequisite clearances, students use the Center as a source for information about registration problems. By restructuring the testing process to an appointment based system, front desk staff have more time to answer students' questions. Consequently, the Center's role in the registration process, at least for currently enrolled students, is increasing.

Placement Testing	M	Explain:Over the next several years, this function will likely change as the state goes to a mandatory assessment. Consequently, placement tests taken at other colleges will transfer to De Anza. New students will be able to test anywhere and have their results accepted at De Anza.
Prerequisite Clearances	E	Explain:As more prerequisites are implemented into Banner, more students will need prerequisite clearance reviews. Consequently, the process will need to be modified to meet the increased demand.
