Subject: Placement and Course Taking Patterns of International Students - 2011-2012

In fall 2011, 1,650 international students with an F1 or FZ visa status were enrolled at De Anza College. Of those students, 326 (20%) were first time students to the college.

The 326 students were tracked to see when they took their placement exam, where they were placed, the courses they enrolled in, and their success rates in the courses they were placed. Students tracked may have taken the placement exam at any point through spring 2012. For students tracked 1 year this included fall 2011, winter 2012 and spring 2012. For two years they were tracked from fall 2011 to winter 2013. Of the 326 students, 111 took an ESL placement exam (34%) and 256 took an English placement exam (78%).

When did the students take their placement exam?

Of the students who took an ESL placement exam. 85% took the placement exam in summer 2011, the quarter prior to their enrollment in the fall. Another 4% took it in the fall, and 2% took it in winter or spring of the following year. Another 10% took the placement exam in the winter or spring prior to their fall enrollment.

Of the students who took an English placement exam. 71% took the placement exam in summer 2011, the quarter prior to their enrollment in the fall. Another 8% took it in the fall, and 11% waited until winter or spring to take or retake the placement exam. Another 5% took the placement exam in the winter or spring prior to their fall enrollment.
