

Financial Planning and College Costs

Student Fees

If you are a full-time resident student enrolled in 12 units, you will pay $12 per unit.* Each quarter this will average $144 for enrollment fees, plus an average of $30 in other fees. The nonresident tuition fee is $110 per unit, and the foreign student tuition fee is $111 per unit.

De Anza charges additional fees for Campus Center use (mandatory), on-campus parking, lab courses, De Anza Associated Student Body activities (voluntary), and health services. International F-1 Visa students are required to purchase comprehensive health insurance for $223 each quarter.

All fees, listed in our quarterly Schedule of Classes and on the Internet at www.deanza.edu/registration/cashier/fees.html, are subject to change. Tuition and fees may be refunded under certain circumstances; the specific refund policy is listed in the Schedule of Classes and online. Please direct questions to the Cashier's Office by e-mail to deanzacashier@fhda.edu.

Fees are subject to change by California legislative action.*

Instructional Materials Fees

For some courses, there will be an instructional materials fee. These fees, shown in the Schedule of Classes, reflect the actual cost for materials, which is usually lower than if you purchased the same items separately. Unless there is an issue of health or safety, you can either pay the fees to the college or provide your own materials of equal quality. A list of materials will be provided by the instructor upon request.

Textbooks and Supplies

You are responsible for purchasing textbooks and supplies including course syllabi, bibliographies and other printed materials in excess of five pages. Some courses require that you purchase additional supplies. The De Anza Bookstore sells all course texts and other items.

Estimated Annual Cost of Attending De Anza College

It is important for you to financially plan your education. The following cost estimates are calculated for a student attending De Anza College full time and enrolled in 12 units for three quarters or nine months. Costs for out-of-state or nonresident students will be higher.

	Living at Home with No Dependents	All Others
Tuition and fees	$815	$815
Books and supplies	1,260	1,260
Room and board	3,246	8,346
Transportation	990	990
Personal and miscellaneous	2,214	2,214
Total	$8,525	$13,625

Fees May Increase Soon

De Anza College is closely following the financial developments in Sacramento regarding the state's budget deficit. Significant cuts have been proposed for all community colleges. However, be assured that De Anza continues to provide students with the same comprehensive selection of courses to prepare them for university transfer, workforce training, and personal and professional enrichment.

In addition, be aware that college fees may change at any time. The fees described in the college catalog and class schedules are accurate at the time of printing, but they are subject to change because state-mandated fees may be imposed or increased. To stay informed about budget information, go to www.deanza.edu.