

SUSTAINABILITY, FACILITIES, EQUIPMENT and TECHNOLOGY INCLUDING MEASURES E and C

In 2008, De Anza adopted a Sustainability Management Plan (SMP) to guide the college toward becoming fully sustainable. The SMP addresses all aspects of college operations and their impact on the campus and community. The plan includes community vibrancy, environmental stewardship, social equity and financial responsibility.

Three Measure E projects were completed this year: the Visual and Performing Arts Center, Landscape Phase 1 and Signage Phase 1.

Measure C funding allowed us to purchase new furniture for 36 classrooms in the L Quad and one in P.E., install 17 multimedia classrooms and refresh 8 computer labs with new equipment. We were also able to purchase 104 task chairs for faculty and staff, and 42 faculty and staff will receive new office furniture.

Construction began on E-1 (Auto Technology) and design was completed on the Seminar Building, Multicultural Center, the Baldwin Winery and East Cottage. The Baldwin Winery will house the Financial Aid and Scholarships Office, a copy center and part-time faculty offices. The East Cottage will be home to a smart classroom, an oral history lab and the Institute for Community and Civic Engagement (ICCE). Renovations will be in keeping with its historical significance and properties. The Seminar Building will house programs displaced by the Mediated Learning Center, including the Occupational Training Institute (OTI) and CompTechS. The Multicultural Center renovation will upgrade classrooms, improve the division offices for International and Intercultural Studies (IIS), and enhance and expand the multipurpose facilities used by various leadership activities including Asian Pacific American Leadership Institute (APALI) and Latina/o Empowerment at De Anza (¡LEAD!).

Design for the Mediated Learning Center will be completed this calendar year. The Mediated Learning Center is the only new building project in Measure C. This building is being programmed as a LEED® Platinum facility, the highest LEED® achievement. The 54,000-square-foot facility will be home to 13 classrooms for programs such as World Languages, Anthropology and general instruction. The building will also bring together the Office for Mediated Instruction, Staff Development and the Technology Resources Group (TRG) to create a state-of-the-art faculty resource area in support of mediated instruction. The roof will house a large photovoltaic array. The design will integrate leading edge heating, cooling and ventilation systems as well as natural day lighting in all the classrooms for enhanced student learning. The project is in the construction-drawing phase and is slated to begin construction in the spring of 2010.
