“If you have come here to help me
you are wasting your time, but if you have come because your liberation is bound up with mine,
then let us work together.”

Lilla Watson, Australian Indigenous Activist
LISTEN. EMPATHIZE. ACT.

FILM RESOURCES
Show ; We're Watching

Black-ish
"Watch this episode and it'll give you that very entry-level groundwork for what we're talking about and what we're yelling about and what we're in the streets about," says Thompson."
- USA Today

13th
"Named after the 13th Amendment which abolished slavery in 1865, DuVernay's Emmy-winning documentary follows history from slavery through to the mass incarceration of Black people in the United States. The documentary shows why many people have been calling for reform against police brutality for years."
- Connellan

Just Mercy
"The movie makes it clear early on that the Alabama court system convicted McMillian despite stunningly weak testimonies and evidence. It may not be the flashiest courtroom drama, but these smaller stories of racial injustice are crucial."
- Dallas Observer

The Hate U Give
"The Hate U Give" takes on themes of Black Lives Matter, police brutality and black identity and puts them in the thought-provoking story of a black girl growing up "in a black inner-city community and going to a white private school across town."
- USA Today

When They See Us
"When They See Us" is DuVernay's strongest work to date..... relentless portrayal of a criminal justice system that locks up, scapegoats and brutalizes black and brown American children with ease and enthusiasm. Part dirge, part indictment, the series stands out because it insists that we see the boys as they once were and as they always saw themselves: innocent."
- NY Times
BOOK RESOURCES

Write ; We’re Reading

Freedom is a Constant Struggle
by Angela Y. Davis
"Reflecting on the importance of black feminism, intersectionality, and prison abolitionism for today’s struggles, Davis discusses the legacies of previous liberation struggles, from the Black Freedom Movement to the South African anti-Apartheid movement. She highlights connections and analyzes today’s struggles against state terror, from Ferguson to Palestine."

White Fragility
by Robin DiAngelo
"Robin DiAngelo coined the term ‘White Fragility’ in 2011 to describe this process and is here to show us how it serves to uphold the system of white supremacy. She shows us how we can start having more honest conversations, listen to each other better and react to feedback with grace and humility."

The Fire Next Time
by James Baldwin
"At once a powerful evocation of James Baldwin’s early life in Harlem and a disturbing examination of the consequences of racial injustice, the book is an intensely personal and provocative document. It consists of two “letters,” written on the occasion of the centennial of the Emancipation Proclamation, that exhort Americans, both black and white, to attack the terrible legacy of racism."

I’m Still Here
by Austin Channing Brown
"In a time when nearly all institutions (schools, churches, universities, businesses) claim to value “diversity” in their mission statements, I’M STILL HERE is a powerful account of how and why our actions so often fall short of our words. Austin writes in breathtaking detail about her journey to self-worth and the pitfalls that kill our attempts at racial justice, in stories that bear witness to the complexity of America’s social fabric—from Black Cleveland neighborhoods to private schools in the middle-class suburbs, from prison walls to the boardrooms at majority-white organization."

I Am Not Your Baby Mother
by Candice Braithwaite
"A thought-provoking, urgent and inspirational guide to life as a black mother. It explores the various stages in between pregnancy and waving your child off at the gates of primary school, while facing hurdles such as white privilege, racial micro-aggression and unconscious bias at every point."

De Anza Honors Newsletter
TED RESOURCES
Teach ; We’re Learning

Not all Superheros
TEDxFrankfurt with Nova Reid
"Nova Reid is a diversity and anti-racism campaigner and consultant who uses her professional background in mental wellbeing to focus on mindset change, working with organisations and individuals to improve diversity and systems of discrimination from the inside-out."
Click here to watch

50 Years of Racism
TEDxColumbus by James A. White Sr.
"Jim White Sr. provides a lens that goes back 53 years from his first experience with discrimination."
Click here to watch

The Root of Racial Injustice
TEDxRainier with Megan Ming Francis
"Francis traces the root causes of our current racial climate to their core causes, debunking common misconceptions and calling out “fix-all” cures to a complex social problem."
Click here to watch

Internalised Racism
TEDxTysonSalons by Jabari Lyles
"Lyles discusses his personal journey to understanding and loving himself as a Black man, in spite of growing up among a predominantly white community."
Click here to watch

No. You Cannot Touch My Hair!
TEDxBristol with Mena Fombo
"Through her own personal story and the hair-raising experiences of other women and girls, Mena Fombo’s talk is a witty, yet compelling and sometimes dark exploration of the objectification of black women."
Click here to watch
PODCASTS RESOURCES

Speak ; We’re Listening

Code Switch
Hosted by NPR
"Code Switch takes on race and racism across a spectrum of identities and offers personal stories, historical context, and impactful analysis on the challenging past and present of race in America."
Click here to listen

BLM: The Story of a Slogan
Hosted by BBC
"Mukul Devichand and Mike Wendling travel around the United States, talking to Black Lives Matter activists, the parents of young black men shot by police, civil rights elders like the Rev. Jesse Jackson, and police officials.
Can BLM change America?"
Click here to listen

1619
Hosted by Nikole Hannah-Jones
"An audio series on how slavery has transformed America, connecting past and present through the oldest form of storytelling."
Click here to listen

Intersectionality Matters!
Hosted by Kimberlé Crenshaw
"Featuring on the ground interviews with some of the world’s most innovative activists, artists, and scholars, each episode will explore a different topic through an intersectional lens, ranging from the Supreme Court to grassroots activism in Brazil and the Congo to #SayHerName and the future of the #MeToo campaign.
The current season, "Under the Blacklight," dissects the intersectionality between race, gender, poverty, illness, and culture in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic."
Click here to listen

What Matters
Hosted by BLM.com
"What Matters combines documentary narrative with interviews to illuminate specific, timely issues, aiming to create safe dialogue to promote freedom, justice, and collective liberation."
Click here to listen
De Anza Honors Newsletter

LEARN. SUPPORT. EDUCATE.

BLACK LIVES MATTER

LISTEN. EMPATHIZE. ACT.

ARTICLE RESOURCES

Type ; We're Browsing

The 1619 Project
by The New York Times
"The 1619 Project is an ongoing initiative from The New York Times Magazine that began in August 2019, the 400th anniversary of the beginning of American slavery. It aims to reframe the country’s history by placing the consequences of slavery and the contributions of black Americans at the very center of our national narrative."
Click here to read

FAQ about the BLM Movement
by The Bold Italic
"Why is the response violent and destructive? Should I go protest? Won’t I get Covid-19? What should I say or do for my Black friends? Why does the Amy Cooper thing matter so much to people? Does posting on social media matter or is it performance?"
Click here to read

White Privilege: Unpacking the Invisible Knapsack
by American College Personnel Association (ACPA)
"A powerful personal account by Peggy McIntosh, associate director of the Wellesley College Center of Research for Women, on the prevalence of white privilege in daily life and how it perpetuates a system of racism."
Click here to read

Why It’s Different This Time
by The New Yorker
"Isaac Chotiner speaks with Tometi, who advises a number of black-led organizations and previously served as the executive director of the Black Alliance for Just Immigration. Their conversation surrounds what it would mean to defund police departments, how the coronavirus pandemic has shaped the American response to the protests, and what’s next for Black Lives Matter."
Click here to read

7 Ways we know Systemic Racism is Real
by Ben & Jerry’s
"Racism is built right into every level of our society in ways that might surprise you."
Click here to read

Disclaimer: Our officer team has curated recommended these events with the intent of connecting De Anza students to accessible resources. However, we are not affiliated or in collaboration with most, if not all, of the organizations listed.
ORGANISATIONS
Ask ; We're Giving

The National Association of Black Journalists
Help support Black journalists and media professions by donating to America’s largest group for journalists of color. The organization promotes media diversity and supports workers who have been laid off or struggle to find employment.

[Click here to donate]

Pimento Relief Fund
Pimento provides black business in Minnesota without insurance relief, after white supremacists set them on fire during the protests.

[Click here to donate]

NAACP Legal Defense Fund
The NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund (LDF) is the country’s first and foremost civil and human rights law firm. Founded in 1940 under the leadership of Thurgood Marshall, who subsequently became the first African-American U.S. Supreme Court Justice, LDF was launched at a time when the nation’s aspirations for equality and due process of law were stifled by widespread state-sponsored racial inequality. From that era to the present, LDF’s mission has always been transformative: to achieve racial justice, equality, and an inclusive society.

[Click here to donate]

Split Bail Fund Donations
Split a donation to all the bail funds, mutual aid funds, and activist organizations listed on this page, or allocate specific amounts to individual groups.

[Click here to donate]

Know Your Rights Camp
Colin Kaepernick founded this organization that holds education seminars across the country for black and brown youth. Know Your Rights Camp teamed up with defense lawyers in the Minneapolis area to help provide legal resources for those in Minnesota in need right now.

[Click here to donate]