

DE ANZA COLLEGE
Nursing 151, 152, 153, 154

Instructor: CATHERINE HRYCYK, RN, MScN

Office: S82B Email: hrycykcatherine@deanza.edu

Phone: (408) 863-5529

Office hours: Wednesdays 10:00-12:00 AM

Classroom: S83, See schedule of classes for times

Units: Nursing 151 = 1 unit
Nursing 152 = 1 unit
Nursing 153 = 1 unit
Nursing 154 = 0.5 unit

Nursing 151, 152, 153, and 154 students must be registered in the Associate Degree of Nursing Program. Three hours laboratory practice for each unit of credit (36 hours total) for each unit of credit per quarter).

Course Description: Specialized nursing skills practice for skill mastery performed in campus laboratory setting.

Expected Student Learning Outcomes:

N151: Demonstrate competent administration of nonparenteral medications, aseptic techniques, vital signs and verification of nasogastric tube placement.

N152: Demonstrate competent administration of parenteral medications, sterile procedures, insertion of tubes such as nasogastric and chest tubes, use of monitoring devices such as glucometers and telemetry.

N153: Demonstrate advanced assessments related to the pediatric and the perinatal patient.

N154: Demonstrate competency in the management of central intravenous catheter procedures, intravenous push medications, soft restraints and advanced sterile procedures.

Text: Skill Testing Guidelines and Skills Criteria Sheets on Student Nurse Website.

Attendance: This is a positive attendance class. You must log all time spent in the laboratory.

Grading Scale: This is a Pass/No Pass class.

Reminders:

- De Anza College will enforce all policies and procedures set forth in the Standards of Student Conduct (see catalogue). Any student disrupting a class/ lab may be asked to leave the class or lab. Administrative follow-up will result.
- Please remember that no beverages or food of any type are allowed in the classroom/ lab.
- The Biology, Health and Environmental Sciences Division Student Handbook is available on-line at: <http://bhs.deanza.edu/StudentHandbook.pdf>. All the information in the Student Handbook does apply in this course and the students will be accountable for this information. This handbook contains many helpful resources for the students, ideas to increase student success and expectations of classroom behavior.
- Every student in the Nursing Program is responsible for the information provided in the De Anza College Department of Nursing Student Handbook. An updated version is available every September on the Nursing web site. Part of your success in this program requires that you be informed of and follow current policies.
- Student tutors are available at no cost to you. Please contact Thomas Bailey for assistance.