Course Description

This course introduces and examines the role of formal and informal methods of reasoning in several forms of discourse. We will focus on the cultivation of argumentative skills relevant to academic, public, and interpersonal methods of communication.

Student Learning Outcomes

Students who successfully engage course materials will be able to:

- Identify and analyze a variety of rhetorical and argumentative techniques
- Analyze and assess a variety of rhetorical and argumentative texts
- Develop original complex arguments
- Apply these tools to real-world decision-making

Course Expectations and Requirements

- Students who are considering dropping the course for personal reasons are encouraged to meet with the instructor first—I'm happy to do what I can to help you succeed in this class!
- Students may miss a total of four class meetings without penalty during the term. A fifth absence will result in the loss of the "attendance buffer" (explained below) when final grades are calculated. A seventh absence will result in dismissal from the course.
- Students are not required to provide the instructor with a reason for absence, nor are apologies necessary. I assume that absences will only occur under legitimate circumstances.
- Students who miss a class meeting are responsible for obtaining any information or assignments they may have missed.
- Attendance will be taken at the beginning of class on a daily basis. It is the student's responsibility to ensure that his/her name has been recorded accurately on daily attendance sheets.
- Students are expected to come to class on time. Three late arrivals will be considered equivalent to one absence on the attendance record.
- Cell phones and other electronic devices must be turned off during class. Students who need to leave a phone on for emergency purposes should let me know at the beginning of the class session. Text messaging/web-surfing is incompatible with active participation in class activities, and will not be permitted during class time. Students who use electronic devices in class without obtaining prior permission may be asked to leave.

Student Assessment:

The final grade will be awarded according to the following point system:

	With attendance buffer	Without attendance buffer

Homework Assignments	20%	25%

- Quizzes may not be made up.
- The mid-term and final exams may not be made up.
- Your lowest quiz score will be dropped from your final score total.
- Homework assignments are to be completed by the beginning of their corresponding class meeting, unless otherwise directed. I will collect homework sporadically throughout the course and check it for completion. It is expected that homework will be completed for submission on request.
- You may submit late homework up to one week past the due date for half credit. I will not accept homework that is more than a week late.
- Participation in discussions will be evaluated according to the quality of student comments, and not quantity. Students who demonstrate excellence in discussions will attend closely to the comments of other students, and offer remarks that are of relevance to the discussion at hand. It is expected that students will engage one another's ideas in discussion, and that this will be done in a respectful manner. Neither disparaging remarks nor personal attacks will be tolerated in any way.
- Class discussions will frequently feature small-group work. It is expected that students will participate actively in these groups.
- Academic honesty is imperative in all written work. Plagiarism, the use of unauthorized electronic devices during quizzes, and other violations will automatically result failing grade in the course, and will be reported to the Dean of Academics. Students who are unsure about standards for academic honesty should consult with me.
