Become part of a learning community for your first two years of college.

Develop the critical and creative thinking skills that employers seek to drive innovation and solve the problems of tomorrow. Humanities is an academic discipline that develops these skills by tracing our search for life's meaning. Courses investigate how artists and thinkers have grappled with the big questions such as what it means to be human, what it means to be happy, and how to live a good life.

Classes will help you develop deeper appreciation of how the concepts of knowledge, reality, the imagination, and the nature of beauty contribute to our sense of the world and to our human experience.

As a Humanities Mellon Scholar, you will complete university transfer requirements for your chosen major and earn a Certificate of Achievement in Humanities while connecting with classmates in a learning community.
