- ## Canvas Course Platform:

This course uses the Canvas course management system. As a fully asynchronous course (no in-person class or Zoom meetings), you are required to spend several hours on Canvas a week. You will submit all your assignments on Canvas. Please do not email any assignments via my personal email. The Canvas page for this course is available by logging into <https://deanza.instructure.com> using your MyPortal login credentials (your student ID and password that you use to register). You will see a “tile” for the course on your dashboard. There is also a Canvas app for your phone, which I highly recommend you download. Please note that some of the features are limited in the phone app as well as a tablet, so you should not plan on using your phone or tablet alone for the class; access to a computer will be necessary. If you have any problems accessing the site, I suggest contacting tech support \(ETS\) by clicking here. Make sure to read all the weeks’ modules and do not just rely on completing your “to do” list. The modules are meant to simulate our class lectures, and you will need to know all this information to adequately complete the assignments for points.

Objectives: English Writing 1B is a 5 unit lecture in which students will apply critical thinking and research to reading and writing. The academic (interpretive, analytical, argumentative) writing will be based largely on reading of literary/imaginative texts linked by a common theme or issue. Specifically, students will:

1. Apply writing skills learned in 1A, such as planning, drafting, revising, and editing.
2. Develop analytical and comparative skills in the reading of literary texts.
3. Formulate interpretations and arguments based on reading and research.
4. Use multiple research facilities (library, Internet etc.)
5. Employ MLA Style documentation and avoid plagiarism.
6. Carefully edit and give constructive feedback to other student’s essays.
7. Participate in group and individual workshop style exercises.

Student Learning Outcomes:

- Demonstrate analytical skills in the reading of literary (and non-literary) texts linked by common theme or issue
- Demonstrate analytical, organizational, verbal, and research skills in writing
- Comparatively evaluate multiple sources and integrate them in an analytical research paper

Grading: You are required to complete all assignments on the due date. Late assignments such as Discussion Posts, Outlines, or Peer Reviews will be penalized points according to the assignment and number of days late. Late papers will be penalized 5 points for half a week late, 10 points for a week and every week after (in other words, turn in your papers on time!) Absence, sickness, wifi connection, tech issues, etc. are not an excuse. Complete assignments early enough to troubleshoot any issues. Late papers will be graded late.

A final grade for the course will be assigned on the basis of performance in the following areas:

Formal Essays: Essay #1=10%,
 Essay #2=20%,
 Essay #3 = 30%
 Peer Review of Outlines and Essays:10%
 Quizzes: 10%
 Discussion Posts: 10%
 Biographical Presentations: 10%

Scale: 97-100%=A+, 93-96%=A, 90-92%=A-, 87-89%=B+, 83-86%=B, 80-82%=B-, 77-79%=C+, 70-76%=C, 67-69%=D+, 63-66%=D, 60-62%=D-, 59% and below=F

 Extra credit: (Optional) – Get creative! Write a poem, essay, or brief short story in the style of one of our authors. For example, write a new ending for one of our short stories and explain your decisions. Or write a short story from the perspective of one of the other characters and tell why you chose that character. Maximum 1-2 pages, typed, double space. This is worth 1% of your total grade (or the equivalent to 5 points in your quiz section). You may do a maximum of 1 and turn it in any time before the end of the quarter. You can submit in Module 12.

*Please respect the evaluation process and do not ask me to give you a higher grade if your work does not merit it. (Thanks!)

Workload and Due Dates : This is a writing course and as such, you are asked to produce a fair amount of writing at home. There will also be a fair amount of reading. You should set aside time in your schedule every day to complete this work. You should expect to spend 5 hours a week in discussions with your peers, and in watching slideshow lectures. You can also expect to spend roughly 10-15 hours a week completing the reading and writing assignments. It's not easy, I know. But I'm asking you to plan ahead and make a commitment to this course. And when you finish this course, you are going to be so darn proud of yourself!

Wednesdays and Sundays will be Canvas due dates. You are welcome to complete the work any time before 11:59pm on Wednesdays and Sundays.

Plagiarism: Plagiarism is the use of ideas, facts, opinions, illustrative material, data, direct or indirect wording of another scholar and/or writer – professional or student – without giving proper credit. If a student is found guilty of plagiarism, he/she will receive a zero for the assignment.

Conduct: Please respect your classmate's opinions, participation, and opportunity for success and please respect the work necessary to complete this course. For more information on conduct online (Netiquette), see the canvas course website. Any Discord groups associated with the class are expected to comply with De Anza course Netiquette.
